EXHIBIT A-2
BEACH WATCHERS PROGRAM & TRAINING SERVICES
2020

WSU Snohomish County Extension Beach Watcher Overview:

WSU Beach Watchers are university-caliber trained volunteers committed to the protection of Puget Sound watersheds through education, research and personal stewardship. Washington State University Snohomish County Extension provides staff support and all necessary training to ensure that Beach Watcher activities are based on science, available to the general public and fill existing needs.

Beach Watchers and staff will:

1. Offer training opportunities for County-based volunteers: Beach Watchers and Beach Naturalists. Each training session will be designed for people interested in learning about the marine environment and sharing that knowledge with park users and neighbors. Staff will recruit from these trained volunteers for working at Mukilteo Lighthouse Park with the intention of each new person being mentored by existing Beach Watchers.
2. Provide docent assistance to at least 6 groups of school children who are visiting Mukilteo Lighthouse Park during exceptional low-tides in Spring / Summer 2020. We will work in partnerships with the City of Mukilteo Recreation and Cultural Services Division to advertise the availability of WSU Beach Watcher assisted field trips as well as notifying teachers and educators from previous years through email notices.
3. WSU Beach Watchers will be at Mukilteo Lighthouse Park for at least two hours on six different days during summer month low tides. WSU Beach Watchers will interact with the public utilizing either a touch tank or roving the beach. These events will be advertised through various avenues. WSU Beach Watchers will provide the list of dates to the Mukilteo Recreation and Cultural Services Division by March 29, 2020.
4. Mukilteo Lighthouse Park has several large kiosks. WSU Beach Watchers will refresh information throughout the year, and bi-monthly during the busy summer season. Materials will be educational in nature and graphically pleasing.
5. WSU staff will provide one final report and semiannual invoices.

Note: The City of Mukilteo will allow WSU to provide parking passes for volunteers on their naturalist or training days which will be accepted by Parking Enforcement.
